THE 'WORLD'S SMALLEST CHEF' IS CONTINUING HIS RESIDENCE WITH AN ENCORE IN THE CITY OF GOLD.

*Whoever said that 'all that glitters isn't gold' has clearly never attended the Le Petit Chef Southern Africa theatre of dining presented by DinnerTimeStoriesSA. If you want to see proof – COME ON OVER! The small but seismic culinary event that is Le Petit Chef is re-opening a new limited show run in Jozi ... Oui amis we can officially confirm it is true.*

Excited to spoil old friends, and have the opportunity to blow the minds of those Gautengers he has not yet met, Le Petit Chef : Au Naturel will re-open in Honeydew bringing thrills to audiences at the attractive Blueberry Hill Hotel. He cordially invites you to return to his well-loved show, to partake in all things culinary and social - 3D storytelling, accompanied by a six-course dining and entertainment extravaganza – with the official return launching on Saturday 21 March 2026.

HONEYDEW – JOHANNESBURG, SOUTH AFRICA

Le Petit Chef the spontaneous, nomadic and 'smallest animated chef in the world' has remained to share again one of his most loved gourmet adventures: Au Naturel, designed from simple, classic favourites with the world-famous Le Petit Chef French flair! With a continued residency at the Blueberry Hill Hotel this tiny chef will surpass the greatest of your expectations, and make the city of Johannesburg truly sparkle!

Come and immerse yourself in the enhanced 4K projected 3D spectacle that will take you back to the root of all flavour, transforming monotony into intrigue ... The delights for your eyes and ears are truly endless, but nothing compared to what Le Petit Chef SA has prepared for your nose and your tastebuds.

The entertainment is grounded in a feast of six courses that is both awe-inspiring and mouth-watering, infused with the essence of simplicity. It all begins with a complimentary glass of Krone MCC bubbles, and diners are given the option of truly ethnic South African all Her Collection (as seen in Woolworths) wine-pairing to complement each dish. The menu remains shrouded in mystery to the very last second ... but sit back, embrace the anticipation, and allow resident Executive Chef Kelly Nonjinge (together with the world's smallest Chef), to alight every tastebud.

And so, your authentic culinary transformation begins! In Au Naturel we are all about transforming the small and the simple into something you'll never forget. Over the course of the evening, we will gather at the docks, saunter across the shoreline, conquer the forest and champion the grasslands with a level of style and class only achievable by the likes of Le Petit Chef. At each location your surroundings will change: creamy comforts will become zesty freshness, which we later abandon for the rich trappings of herbs and spices. NEVER a tasteless moment.

“Enjoying and celebrating the great outdoors is not something I can do alone and that is why I have invited you all to join me! The culinary feats of Le Petit Chef : Au Naturel are all about creating and sharing the simplicity of la belle vie ... From the earth to your table, ingredients will be transformed mes amis with French style by my hands into dishes that boggle the mind and ensnare the senses ... Simplicité has never been so extraordinaire” says The Smallest Chef In The World.

Vegetarian, gluten-free or halaal and worried you might miss out? Never fear! Le Petit Chef SA and Executive Chef Nonjenge are the best qualified dynamic duo ready and able to accommodate all dietary needs. All such requirements are dealt with on the day you check in for your dining experience.

The gourmet dining theatre hosts an intimate 54 guests per show and will sell out fast.
